Applying for a Japanese Medical Visa

- ✓ The hospital accepting you (receiving hospital) has been confirmed
- ✓ It is possible for you to make contact regarding entry to and departure from Japan
- ✓ You fulfill the medical visa application criteria

When applying for a medical visa, documents issued/produced by the guarantor organization and medical organization are necessary

Are you eligible for the issuance of a medical visa?

Intention for traveling to Japan for treatment

Yes No

At present, I am receiving treatment and care in the Russian Federation, but I want to be treated in a hospital in Japan.

* Those who select 'No' are not eligible. Please discuss this with your family again before deciding.

I possess of a passport

Yes No

I have obtained a passport to travel to Japan (overseas) issued by the Russian Federation.

* Those who select 'No' should obtain a passport. It is possible to have one issued by the Russian Federation governmental organization of your birth place.

I can abide by Japanese laws

Yes No

I will live and behave in accordance with the laws of Japan when I travel there.

* Those who select 'No' cannot enter Japan. Please choose a different country.

I can pay for medical and other expenses

Yes No

In Japanese hospitals, foreigners must be able to pay for all expenses as the treatment is generally not covered by insurance.

* Those who select 'No' may not be able to receive treatment at Japanese hospitals. We recommend that you receive treatment within the Russian Federation.

I have the physical strength to travel to Japan for treatment

Yes No

While patients may have various conditions, in my present condition, I have the physical strength required to travel to Japan for treatment.

* Because there is a risk of movement being limited during the journey to Japan (on the plane), or immediately after having arrived in Japan, those who select 'No' may have their medical visa application declined.

The receiving hospital has been decided

Yes No

I have decided on the hospital that will receive me (for treatment, examinations, etc.) upon arriving in Japan.

* We ask that those who select 'No' to contact MTJ. Based on your 'Treatment Inquiry Form', our medical coordinator will make an inquiry to the hospital whether they can accept you to receive treatment. 'Treatment Inquiry Form' is a form that we ask you to complete when making an inquiry to a hospital. Please provide all necessary information including current medications.

Steps in the issuance of medical visas

STEP 1 Confirmation of eligibility for a medical visa

STEP 2 Acquiring reservation information from the planned, receiving hospital

- (1) Hospital data (Address, contact details, responsible physician, etc.)
- (2) Proof that confirms the reservation, diagnosis/treatment plan
- (3) Preparation of personal reference guarantee documents

*Depending on the receiving hospital, medical coordination by companies such as ours may be recommended.
When you need to make a hospital reservation, please contact us, so we can make a reservation for you.

(*The planned date of receiving medical care at the hospital must be at least 1 month in advance from making the application)

STEP 3 Entering the contract

*This is a contract with the patient to receive treatment

STEP 4 Payment of fees

*You will make a payment to a Japanese account for the medical service fees.

*If making an international remittance is problematic, we will guide you through application via a proxy sales company of our designation.

STEP 5 Confirmation of the hospital reservation

STEP 6 ✓ Application for medical visa begins
*around 7-14 working days

STEP 7 Preparation of documents related to the consular application

We ask that the patient or their family prepare related documents required for the application and fill in the application form.

STEP 8 Submission to and authorization from the Embassy/consulate of Japan
*around 8-10 working days
